Hi Kurt,
Attached is the photo of what we are proposing. The existing sign is 5'h x 6'w, so the new sign would extend 1.5' further each way, and would cross the sidewalk. The sign has a 11' underclearance from the bottom of the cabinet. Please let me know if you need any additional information.
Thanks,

Subject: Street Occupancy Permit

Hi Kurt,

I am working with Zulegar Advisors on making adjustments to their existing sign. Johan had approved the attached drawing which is replacing the existing cabinet with a larger sign that is not centrally mounted as to not overhang the sidewalk. I'm wondering if we are able to go with a sign cabinet the same size, but centrally mounted which would overhang the sidewalk a few feet if we get a street occupancy permit. There is an 11' underclearance.

Would this be allowed??

Thanks,

Sara Greil
