Many of these images from gameplay show dollar signs, credits in the form of dollar signs, the word “win” with a dollar amount beneath it, varying jackpots labeled in dollar amounts titled “mini”, “minor”, “major”, and “big daddy”. Some of the images depict a traditional slot machine-style of play. Slot machine-style games have outcomes that are based purely on chance, thus qualifying them as a gambling machine per Wisconsin statute.

The picture labeled “Systems image 1” is a picture from the website depicting the computer system that runs these games. The site states “Tailor games to maximize profits and player satisfaction. Promote and grow game play. Centralize money transactions. Control prize ticket printing. The possibilities are endless!” The image labeled “Systems image 2” talks about the attendant inserting bills into the “external BV” which stands for Bill Validator. “Systems image 3” shows the player will hit the “Ticket” button once done playing and the attendant can either transfer credits to another game or print a voucher for redemption for the player. This language alone makes it clear that the operating system that runs Big Daddy Games machines involves the insertion of currency into the games in order to play them and the player can redeem their winnings in the form of a voucher. It appears this language makes these machines fit the Wisconsin statutory definition of gambling machines.

The user manuals for all three kiosks are being sent to the Appleton City Clerk’s Office along with this memo. Of note, all three manuals indicate the kiosks have a “cash dispensing unit”.

On 10/6/25 I reviewed the following videos on Big Daddy Games’ YouTube channel, “Big Daddy Games LLC”:

Viva La Jackpot <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uTmAdiK0iQY> published 7 months ago

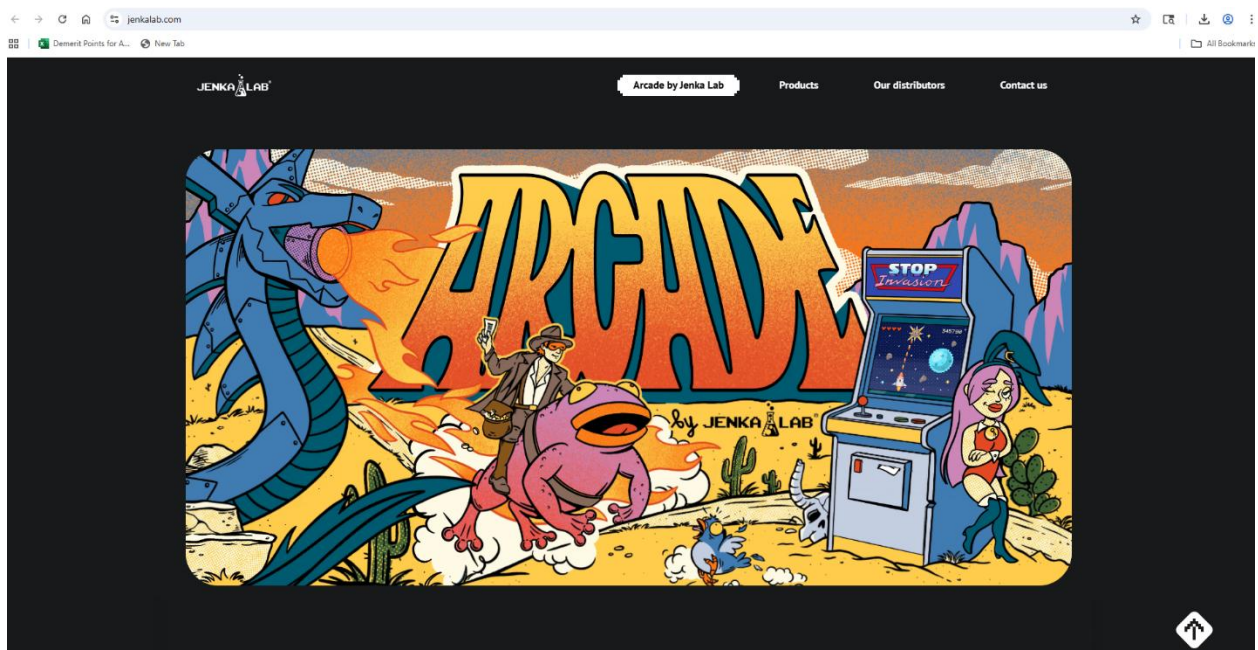

Power Player 2 <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4LdFkzgn8c8> published 5 years ago

The game examples under the Skill Game Options video were named as “Follow Me,” “Skill Wheel,” and “Mandatory Reveal.” None of the gameplay images from this video are found on the Big Daddy Games website, which leads me to believe these three games are the only skill-based games Big Daddy Games offers.

The gameplay videos from Viva La Jackpot and Power Player 2 included several games from images I have attached to this memo. The gameplay depicted in these videos is extremely similar to slot machine-style games which leads me to believe they are purely games of chance.

On 09/27/25 I explored the Jenka Labs website for an extended period of time looking at gameplay images and information about their games. Most of the images showed various prizes listed in dollar amounts labeled as “grand”, “major”, “minor”, and “mini”. The game descriptions are labeled as either amusement games or skill games. I obtained the following screenshot images from www.jenkalab.com:

Based on conversation I've had with an agent from the Wisconsin Department of Revenue, the only legal pull tab machine in the State of Wisconsin is Wisconsin Souvenir Milkcap pull tabs. Houdini's Escape Gastropub listed a "Technik Pulltab vending machine" on their application. On 9/27/2025 I explored the Technik pull tab website, www.technikmfg.com, and saved the following screenshots:

I forwarded the user manuals for both 4 column and 8 column pull tab vending machines to the City of Appleton Clerk's Office along with this memo. Wisconsin Souvenir Milkcap is not referenced anywhere on the Technik website that I can find.

The "IT Golden Tee Golf video game" and the "Arachnid Electronic Dart game" listed on Houdini's Escape Gastropub application do not appear to be gambling machines. The Appleton Police Department does not object to these two devices.

Images labeled as Power Player 13 and Power Player 15 have the word "keno" depicted in the screenshots. The website www.britannica.com defines keno as the following:

"keno, gambling game played with cards (tickets) bearing numbers in squares, usually from 1 to 80. A player marks or circles as many of these numbers as he wishes up to the permitted maximum, after which he hands in, or registers, his ticket and pays according to how many numbers he selected. At regular daily intervals a total of 20 numbered balls or pellets are randomly drawn from a container, and prizes are paid out by the house according to how many of each player's selected numbers are drawn."

This description of keno indicates this game requires all chance and no skill, thus qualifying a machine that houses this game as an illegal gambling machine.

My assessment of the games listed on this application is based on information currently available to me. If new information is obtained that shows the devices listed on the application are not illegal gambling machines, then the Appleton Police Department's recommendation to deny may change. I am hoping to review some of these machines in person with the manufacturer to gain further understanding of them.

Based on the collective information obtained from the above-mentioned websites, user manuals and review of applicable Wisconsin statutes pertaining to gambling machines, I believe all of the devices that the Houdini's Escape Gastropub wishes to install in their business qualify as illegal gambling machines (except for the golf game and dart game). Therefore, the Appleton Police Department recommends denial of the Mechanical Amusement Device Application.

Respectfully submitted,

Lt. Ben Goodin

Appleton Police Department
